At 11a.m. October 21, Sung Wen Chong visited the Commercial Press and was accordingly arrested by C.D.C. 344.

Sung emphatically denied that he had intimidated Mr. Wong over the telephone, or that he had visited the Commercial Press with several undesirables during the afternoon of October 7.

He further asserted that his visit to the Commercial Press on October 21 was for the purpose of removing some personal property.

Mr. Wong later attended the Station and after giving due consideration to all points requested that no criminal action be taken against Sung provided he signed a statement promising not to molest him again. This Sung did.

For obvious reasons Mr. Wong's request was complied with there being a desire on his part not to antagonize his loyal employee.

Sung was released on promising not to create further trouble.

File forwarded for classification.

Intimidated by ex-employees.
Visited Commercial Press with leaflets to intimidate or assault complainant.

During the evening of October 8th, 1941, Mr. K. S. Wong (王錦生), Manager of the Commercial Press, 211 Honan Road, telephoned D. I. Moir reporting that he had reasons to believe that certain ex-employees of the Commercial Press were intimidating him and making his life miserable.

D. I. Moir later interviewed Mr. Wong and elicited from him that the trouble is the out-come of the strike which was recently settled. It will be recalled that the strike at the Commercial Press lasted several weeks.

This settlement resulted in the Company dispensing with the services of several of their employees.

The dismissed employees received adequate reparation, i.e., 9 months pay, (approved by Social Welfare Bureau) and signed a document relieving the Commercial Press of further obligations so far as they were concerned.

Amongst those whose services were dispensed with were three agitators and trouble-makers, namely (1) Tang Wen Chong (唐文昌), (2) Soong Shing Kung (宋錫廣) and (3) Tse Wei Shun (朱慰堃).

These men have apparently self-appointed themselves leaders of the dismissed workers and to all intents and purposes are out to make as much trouble as they can.

They are arrogant individuals and by their tactics it is quite obvious that they intend to make Mr. Wong's life miserable.

The Commercial Press are under no obligation whatsoever to these men and Mr. Wong is not obliged to see them.

As a result of their recent activities Mr. Wong has been obliged to restrict his activities to such an extent that it is now considered necessary to afford him Police protection.

At 10.40 a.m. October 2, 1941, Zung Wen Chong, Soong Shing Kung, and Tzu Wei Shu forced their way into Mr. Wong's office and demanded that he dispense with the services of certain coolies employed by the Hung Zung Cleaning Company and reinstate some of dismissed workers.

Mr. Wong stated that his firm was not prepared to entertain such a proposition and that they were under no obligation to their former employees.

Police were called and the intruders were requested to leave the building. They were also warned to keep away. (See C.Misc. 838/41).

During the afternoon of Friday, October 3, 1941, some-one telephoned Mr. Ting Yung Hwei (), who is in charge of the General Affairs Department.

The anonymous caller who Mr. Ting Yung Hwei recognised by his voice to be Zung Wen Chong spoke as follows:

"If anything happens to Mr.Wong, I cannot be responsible."

As a result of this message Mr.Wong became very alarmed and has been compelled to restrict his movements.

Further developments occurred at about 5.30p.m. October 7, when Zung Wen Chong entered the Commercial Press and enquired of the firm's private detective one named Sung Kwei Moh (沈桂木) if Mr.Wong was in the office. The private detective saw that Zung Wen Chong was accompanied by five male Chinese of the loafer class, who were standing on the opposite side of the road. Zung Wen Chong told the private detective that he resented Mr.Wong's action in calling in the Police on October 2.

He later left the building and was seen to converse with the loafers.

Mr.Wong was not in at the time, but it is his usual custom to leave the building at about 5.30p.m. daily.

It is not quite apparent that the purpose of Zung's visit with the loafers was either to assault Mr.Wong or create a public scene when he was leaving the premises.

It is also known that Zung Wen Chong was loitering in the vicinity of the Commercial Press at about 9 a.m. October 8. Detectives failed to locate him.

Necessary precautions have been taken, meanwhile detectives are continuing enquiries in an endeavour to locate Zung Wen Chong.

If these men are permitted to continue with such tactics it will be impossible for Mr. Wong to attend to his business, and further more if they get away with it they will eventually exercise much control over the loyal employees.

A determined effort will be made to locate Zung Wen Chong.

Enquiries proceeding.

Ex-employees of the Commercial Press call
WONG KAMMER.

Sir,

At 10.40a.m. October 2nd, 1941, Mr. K.S. Wong, Manager of the Commercial Press, 211 Honan Road, telephoned the Station reporting that three of the ex-employees, namely Sang Heing Keng (宋新廣), Tan Wei Hei (陳維基) and Zung Vung Chong (鍾文昌) had entered his office and were annoying him.

These men who claimed to represent dismissed employees had called upon Mr. Wong for the purpose of insisting that the company employ some of the dismissed employees as cleaning coolies and dispense with the services of the Hong Kong Cleaning Company who have done this work for several years.

Mr. Wong stated that his Company was not prepared to entertain such a proposition and that they were under no obligation to any of their former employees.

The three intruders left the building when advised to do so by detectives.

Detectives are keeping in touch with Mr. Wong.

LOOK OUT OF COMMERCIAL PRESS EMPLOYEES

It is to be reported that since the "Look Out" declared by the Commercial Press on April 22, 1941, there have been no disturbances among the employees of the Printing Department located at No. 694 Bubbling Well Road. However, majority of the staff, which consists of some three hundred persons, have been daily reporting for work. They loiter in and around the premises awaiting the result of the negotiations at present under way between the management and the Printer's Union.

From enquiries made it seems that the employees of this department were not concerned in the "sit down" strike staged at the Commercial Press Offices, 211 Roman Road. They were apparently willing to commence work on April 22, but were prevented from doing so by the management when they declared a "look out" following the incident that took place at the Roman Road Department.

Police have been on duty at No. 694 Bubbling Well Road since the morning of April 22, and the Officer i/s., Senior Detective and the undersigned have been in daily contact with the senior employees of this department. Moreover, despite certain information that has come to the notice of the Police, namely, that senior employees were believed to have been forcibly detained; that meetings were being held there by the employees of the Commercial Press, and that the management desired the employees ejected, Police were unable to confirm or obtain any evidence that such happenings had taken place.

At 10:30 A.M. today - April 24- the Officer i/c., Inspector Ching Mien Tsung, and the undersigned visited No.694 Bubbling Well Road, and found that some fifty or sixty employees were loitering in and around the premises. Nevertheless they were quiet and orderly. The situation was discussed with the Assistant Manager, Ting Ying Kwei (丁英桂), who, after a lengthy talk with the employees present, persuaded most of them to leave the printing shop so that he could secure it pending resumption of work. The offices in the upper portion of the building, however, remained open and were more or less being used as an Information Bureau for the staff, during the course of the negotiations that are taking place. When the aforementioned officers left the building at 11:45 A.M., only about twenty senior employees remained on the premises.

In view of the fact that these employees are quite orderly, and that no instructions have been received to eject them from the premises, no action has been taken other than posting Police in the vicinity.

Commercial Press Ltd.- Strike.

At 4.30p.m. 22/4/41, a telephone call was received from D.S.I. Wilcox, Special Branch, reporting that the employees of the Commercial Press Ltd., 211 Honan Rd. had commenced a "sit down" strike.

C.D.S.86 and the undersigned attended and ascertained that the workers of the above Company had presented demands to the management on 18/4/41, these demands stipulated that the salaries of all employees be increased to a total of 120%, however as the Head Office of the Company is in Hongkong the workers decided to declare a "go slow" strike to enable the management to communicate with their Hongkong Office, should no satisfaction be obtained by the workers on 21/4/41 then a "sit down" strike would be declared.

The management in Shanghai contacted the Hongkong Offices and on 22/4/41 a notification was received by Mr. Lee, Manager, Shanghai Branch informing him that the workers demands could not be considered, the workers were informed of this decision whereupon the workers immediately stopped work and locked the doors of the premises so that business was completely suspended, the workers then contacted the company's various branches in the Settlement and the French Concession, the result being that the whole of the company's staff is now on strike.

The workers in the other branches all left their respective premises peacefully while the workers in the premises at 211 Hennan Rd., about 200 in number, sat down in their respective departments and refused to leave the premises, at the same time they threatened to go on a "hunger" strike for 48 hours as a reprisal against the Company, as no trouble was anticipated the manager Mr. Lee was quite willing to allow the strikers to remain on the premises.

Special Branch are watching the situation closely, while the usual Police precautions are being taken.

Commercial Press Ltd. - Strike.

At 7.5p.m.22/4/41 a telephone message was received from Mr. Lee, manager of the Commercial Press, reporting that some of the senior employees of the firm were being detained by strikers on the firm's premises at 211 Honan Rd. C.D.S.337 and D.S.I. Mason attended and found all the grilles locked. The strikers, under the leadership of one Tsao Zee Liang (趙志良) readily opened the grille however, and admitted detectives. They then escorted them to a 1st floor office where Mr. C.L. Bau (鮑君林), assistant manager, and Mr. K.S. Wong (王君士), secretary, were privately interviewed.

Mr. Bau and Mr. Wong informed the undersigned that at about 3p.m. 22/4/41, the staff had declared a "sit down" strike and passed a resolution to remain on the premises without food for 48 hours. When questioned as to whether they were being detained against their will, both Mr. Bau and Mr. Wong declared that they were staying on the premises willingly, although the inference was that the strikers expected them to remain. Mr. Bau and Mr. Wong were then asked definitely if they desired to leave with Police assistance. They were opposed to this and maintained that they would rather remain than ~~aggravate~~ the strike situation by the use of Police assistance. The undersigned accordingly left the premises, promising to return on the morning of 23/4/41 to enquire if they were still of the same mind.

At 9.30p.m. 22/4/41 Mr. Zau Ping Nien (曹平年), sales manager of the Company, called on the undersigned at the station at the request of Mr. Lee, the General Manager, and stated that the families of four of the senior employees were worried about them. He therefore requested Police assistance to escort them from the premises. This gentleman was informed by the undersigned of the attitude adopted by Mr. Rau, the assistant manager, and in consequence he telephoned to Mr. Lee at his home requesting the latter to come to the station and consult with the undersigned.

However at 9.55p.m. 22/4/41, a telephone message was received from the D.C. (Crane), instructing C.I. Kelly to lead a Police party to the shop premises, release the senior employees and eject the strikers. Accordingly at 10.10p.m. a strong party under C.I. Kelly proceeded to the shop and after some slight delay, were admitted by the strikers. No opposition was encountered and all the strikers left the premises quietly after the following five senior employees had been escorted to the station:-

Mr. C. L. Lam (梁榮華)

Mr. H. S. Wong (王康石)

Mr. Sze Chiu Yui (史久義)
Mr. Wong Tsong Wing (黃仲明)
Mr. Kyi Pah Kyi (徐百齊)

In addition to the Company's firemen and watchmen, eight C.P.C.s have been posted on the premises as a precautionary measure.

The management anticipate possible sabotage as a result of these developments and have requested protection for the following premises:-

THE AFFAIRS OF THE COMMERCIAL PRESS

The "Sin Wan Pao" publishes the following notice inserted by the Commercial Press:-

Yesterday a notice was published in the newspapers by a so-called "Entire body of employees of the Commercial Press" addressed to the company's partners and the public. As this notice affects the reputation of this firm, we hereby make the following statement in reply:-

The notice says that "the firm cares only about its own interests and is without sympathy", that "the firm has changed its attitude since the resumption of operations," and that "the measures for the purchase of rice by the company to be sold at a low price to the workers be opposed."

After the outbreak of hostilities, the business of the firm became much depressed. With a view to maintaining the livelihood of the employees, the entire body of workers was retained and not a single one was dismissed, only their pay was reduced. Subsequently the pay of the junior employees was gradually restored to the original rate. By the beginning of August this year, the pay of all the employees had been restored to their old scale while those whose pay is small have had their pay increased in view of the high cost of living.

Later, when the price of rice began to rise, the employees demanded allowances. General Manager Wang had to consider the situation for the company was already over-burdened by the recent salary increases.

Unexpectedly the employees organized an association and went on a go-alow strike on August 22 but resumed work on August 24 when it was promised that pay would be issued for the period of the strike. On September 1, they started a second go-alow strike and published a notice in the papers stating that the promises of the firm had not been kept. Just as the management of the Press was going to give a reply, the employees resumed operations on the advice of the senior staff. General Manager Wang had kept his promise not to deduct the wages of the workers for the period of the strike.

Meanwhile, General Manager Wang had devised certain measures for the purchase of rice. The management of the Press had agreed to advance a sum of $10,000 for the purchase of rice to be sold to the employees at 400 per picul when the market price of rice is quoted at 300 per picul. 400 piculs of rice would be required every month, which would have meant an expenditure of about $40,000 by the firm. The demands of the employees were prevented because of the high price of rice, therefore measures of relief in the form of supplying rice to the workers were drawn up. If the market price is quoted at $40, the burden of each person would be lightened by $12.50. As the firm is in financial difficulties, it had to put some restrictions regarding the number of persons in a worker's family or the district in which a worker lives. Upon the announcement of these measures, they were strongly opposed. The distribution of forms to ascertain the number of members in each family was obstructed.

Still determined to force through their demands for increased living allowances, workers of the Commercial Press, Ltd., continued their sit-down strike yesterday and were still refusing to work at the close of business yesterday.

The sit-down strikers were on the premises of the Commercial Press store on Honan Road near Foochow Road at the opening of the establishment yesterday morning and were still there last night. The strikers issued another notice to the press last night, stating:

"The sit-down strike commenced Tuesday morning at the Commercial Press, Ltd., continued quietly throughout yesterday. The employees feel grateful for the numerous expressions of sympathy shown them by the public, both by word of mouth and in writing.

"Flat refusal on the part of the management to accede to the demands for allowances presented by the employees is the cause of the strike."

Their demand for "allowances" by reason of the increased cost of living consequent upon the decrease in the value of the Chinese dollar having been turned down by their management, employees of the Shanghai office of the Commercial Press Ltd., the biggest Chinese publishing firm, in Foochow Road declared a sit-down strike commencing yesterday.

The striking employees sent printed pamphlets in both Chinese and English to various organizations appealing for the sympathy of the public in their present trouble. It was stated that negotiations for "allowances" to compensate the loss resulting from the drop of the Chinese dollar had been carried out with the head of the Personnel Department of the company, but the demand was turned down.

The responsible persons of the company who are in Hongkong, where the head office of the company has moved since the hostilities, were stated to be most firm in their stand against any increase of wages. Mr. Wang Yung-wu, manager of the firm, was criticized in a Chinese letter addressed to the public appealing for help.

'We Want Rice' Demands Made To Print Firm

Sit-Down Strike Staged By Commercial Press Employees Here

"Which, Mediation or...?" demanded Chinese employees of the Commercial Press yesterday when they instituted a "We Want Rice" sit-down-strike in the premises of the company on Honan Road near Poochow Road yesterday.

The question was put to the general public in the form of posters, written both in English and Chinese, asking for co-operation in pressing their demands for a wage increase to meet the situation which has arisen as the result of the fall in exchange and the current rice shortage in Shanghai.

Although a detail of police was ordered to the scene of the strike immediately after the notices had been displayed outside the company's premises, at the corner of Honan and Poochow Roads, just west of the Central Station, the services of the squad were not required up to a late hour last night.

Note To Customers

Because of the strike, declared yesterday morning, business on the premises of the Commercial Press store was at a standstill. As they entered the place, customers were handed a typewritten note, which stated:

"Dear customers: Under unbearable pressure of living standards here we are obliged to take a claim of sit-down strike as a protest against the company's unfair treatment and consequently we regret that we are not in a position to be of any service to you during this moment of our struggle. Unless the authorities of this company realize their misrule and find some means to save us from hunger, there will be no hope to keep us quietly at work. Should you sympathize with us, please send your help and support for the sake of Justice and Humanity."

In a letter to the English language press, the sit-down strikers declared:

"Being hard pressed by the unprecedented drop of the Chinese dollar recently the employees of the Commercial Press Ltd. here in Shanghai, demanded rightful allowances commensurate with the ever rising cost of living."

"After undertaking several negotiations between the representatives of the employees and the management, represented by the head of the personnel department, the result was nil."

"As it is a well known fact that our only and only hope is to have our demands met, we have decided to take this step."

"We are sure that the public will sympathize with us and support us in our struggle for justice and humanity."

THE LABOUR DISPUTE IN THE COMMERCIAL PRESS

FILE

The dispute between the workers and the management of the Commercial Press has not yet been settled despite the efforts of the Commercial Press Staff Association. Yesterday a letter was issued by the Association repudiating the various points mentioned in the notice issued by the management of the company which alleged that the three demands submitted by the Association were contrary to law and had been drawn without any consideration for the difficulties of the company.

Six representatives of the workers of the Commercial Press called at the General Office on Henan Road at about 10 a.m. yesterday to continue negotiations over the men's demands for the restoration of the original scale of pay. The management refused to receive the callers, whereupon the entire body of workers became greatly indignant.

Fearing further incidents, the Commercial Press Workers Mutual Aid Association has decided to submit appeals to various organs and public bodies this morning, asking for support.

Commercial Press workers Stage Strike

Negotiations were being continued today between the management of the Commercial Press, one of the largest publishing houses in China, and its workers, who declared a strike yesterday for the reinstatement of their wage scale to its pre-war level. Acting on instructions from the president of the company, who is now in Hongkong, the management yesterday turned down the workers' demands. As a result the workers staged a two-hour sit-down strike. Quarters involved in the dispute today expressed little hope of an early settlement. Meanwhile, operations of the company's local plant are being continued with skeleton staff.

Commercial Press Plant Remains Idle For Two Hours

RESTORATION OF OLD WAGES ASKED

Settlement Of Dispute Believed To Be Distant

Six hundred workers in the factories of the Commercial Press went on a two-hour sit-down strike early yesterday morning after failing to conduct negotiations with the company for the re-instatement of the workers' wage scale to its pre-war level.

The dispute between the workers and the company began a fortnight ago, where representatives of the workers presented the following demands to the company:

1. Recognition of the "Commercial Press Workers Co-operative Association," the workers' newly organized union;
2. A subsidy to cover the expenditures of the Association and
3. Restoration of the workers' wages to their pre-war level.

Company Unyielding

On receipt of these three demands, officials of the Company communicated with Mr. Wang Yun-wo, President of the Company, now in Hongkong. Replying, Mr. Wang, the China Press learned, instructed the officials that "to accept the workers' terms would be tantamount to suicide in view of the difficulties already confronting the Company."

In accordance with the President's instructions, and on the ground that the union is not legally existent, officials of the company here refused to negotiate with representatives of the workers.

Statement Issued

In an official statement yesterday evening, the company set forth its position regarding the present dispute with the workers.

Explaining why it would not restore the workers' wages to their pre-war levels, the statement revealed the amount of damage that has been sustained by the company as a result of the decline of the China-Japanese trade.

Amounting to a loss of $1,000,000, the statement stated that the company has been forced to reduce its wages in order to maintain its operations.

of the climbing foreign-exchange.

Altogether, the statement added, less than ten of the Company's 30 branches in all parts of China are still operating, and even their sales receipts are much lower today than they were before the war.

Workers Well Treated

Concerning the company's treatment of its workers, the statement revealed that despite mounting costs of production and diminishing sales returns, practically no employees had been laid off by the company.

When hostilities broke out in Shanghai, the statement said, the company's factories were forced to discontinue operations. The workers, however, were not laid off completely but given a certain amount of allowance to tide over the crisis.

All these workers have now been re-hired, it was stated, either to resume work in the local factories or to be sent to other factories of the company, especially to those in Hongkong.

Pay Scale Explained

Commenting on the dispute over wage restoration, the statement disclosed that shortly after the war broke out, the Company was compelled to reduce the employees' wages on a "pyramid" scale—the lower the pay check, the less the reduction, and the higher the pay check the greater the reduction.

Workers whose pay was below $20 per month were given no reduction at all while the burden of the reduction was assumed by employees on the higher wage bracket, the statement added. This rule was put into effect in April.

Wages Increased

Early in July, the Company was compelled to give a 10 per cent increase in the reduced wages of its employees.

Explaining that the Company also had to reduce its wages in order to maintain its operations, the statement stated that the company has been forced to reduce its wages in order to maintain its operations.

Upon enquiries made by our reporter yesterday at the Commercial Press, Ltd., an important official of the concern made the following statement :-

"After the printing plant of the Commercial Press was destroyed during the January 28 Incident, the company was obliged to discharge all its employees. With the approval of the Shanghai City Government, it was laid down that when the company resumed business, 80% of the employees would be reinstated. Actually over 90% of our employees are old employees. The allegations that the company had concluded an agreement with the workers to the effect that the entire body of unemployed hands would be reinstated as soon as the company had recovered 80% of its capital are unfounded. As regards the payment of pensions, the company paid off all the pensions on the instructions of the Social Bureau at the time when the employees were discharged. The Indians are now awakening and are no longer willing to exert their effort in the interests of the Imperialists. On April 13 the Indian National Conference passed a resolution opposing the participation of Indians in any war. Former Workers Demand Pension With Return Of Firm's Business

Approximately 400 former workers of the Commercial Press gathered around the premises of the sales department of the company in Poochow Road yesterday afternoon demanding work and pensions. They declared that they were thrown out of work by the destruction of the company's factory in Chapei during the Sino-Japanese hostilities in Shanghai but that they were entitled to get pension and work now since the company had secured its former financial footing.

The mob was dispersed by the police after 6 p.m. but they declared they would come back again on Saturday when they expected a satisfactory answer from their former management. During the demonstration, Mr. Wang Yung-wu, the general manager, was absent.

THE EX-WORKERS OF THE COMMERCIAL PRESS

The Commercial Press Ltd. is the biggest printing concern in China.

During the January 28 Incident, the printing plant of the Commercial Press was totally destroyed by gun fire. Subsequently the company resumed business, but the services of a number of the employees were dispensed with. An agreement was drawn up between the employers and these employees to the effect that the latter would be reinstated as soon as the business of the company improves to the condition that it was in prior to the outbreak of the January 28 Incident. The business of the company has since recovered, yet several hundred of these workers have not yet been given work. Some time ago they detailed representatives to make an appeal to the company for assistance. The appeal was referred to the Board of Directors but the latter failed to give a satisfactory reply.

Shortly after 1 p.m. yesterday about 400 of the workers who have not been reinstated by the company gathered at places along Honan Road and Chiao Tung Road near the Sales Office of the Commercial Press. Upon learning of this, Chinese and foreign police of the International Settlement arrived to maintain peace and order.

Yuan Shih Shing (袁士衡), Hsu Chi Tseng (徐志承) and two other representatives of the male workers and Tsi Ah Voong (史阿風) and Moo Yueh Oou (莫月偶), the representatives of the female workers, called on the management of the company and were received by Koo Ping Yuan (顧平遠) and Hsu Peh Tsa (徐百沙) as the General Manager was out on business. The callers submitted the following two demands:-

- (1) That the savings and pensions of the workers be issued.
 - (2) That the unemployed workers be reinstated.
- The two officials promised to refer the demands to the General Manager after which a written reply would be given.

The representatives then summoned all the workers to Chiao Tung Road and informed them of the result of the interview.

After waiting a considerable time for the return of the General Manager, the workers finally requested the management to give careful consideration to their demands for the first days and that they would call again at 10 a.m. April 18 and wait on Chiao Tung Road for a reply.

Representatives of the workers made the following statement:- "When the company resumed business, an agreement was reached between the employees and the labourers at the Shanghai City Government to the effect that all unemployed hands are to be taken on for work as soon as the company has recovered 50% of its capital. Originally, the capital of the company was 25,000,000 but it has now recovered 12,500,000 of the capital. Furthermore, the number of new hands and apprentices employed by the company is greater than the number of old hands. The company has not yet improved any view respecting the payment of the savings and pensions of the unemployed."

Interviewed by our reporter, a responsible official of the company made the following statement :-
 "Despite ~~over~~ production, the company has been doing its best to reinstate the original hands. 90% of the hands in our employ are old employees. The company is developing the business day by day so as to be in a position to reinstate the entire body of these unemployed hands, but for the present it is impossible to do anything."

China Times (Editorial) :-

IS JAPAN FOR OR AGAINST THE REDS?

Japanese newspapers are exerting every effort to provoke ill-feeling between China and Japan. The Japanese authorities are entangling China over the question of united Sino-Japanese defence against the Communists.

As regards the invasion of Shansi by the Red bandits, the Japanese declare that the penetration of Red influence into China would endanger the safety of North China. Not satisfied with intentionally spreading this smoke screen, the Japanese authorities eventually fabricated reports relating to a Sino-Russian Secret Agreement and later spread reports that Chinese military leaders would accept Communism.

The Government troops are making advance in the bandit suppression campaign thereby proving that the reports spread by Japanese are untrue.

The Shanghai "Mainichi" recently published reports to the effect that Chinese military leaders had concluded a secret agreement with the Communist armies, that the Hanking troops had entered Shansi because of the victory of the Communist armies and that the advance to the North of the Hanking troops is intended as a threat against General Sung Chieh Yuan, General Han Fu Chu and others in North China. There is a political significance behind this malicious propaganda.

If Japan really desires to ensure the safety of East Asia, she should respect the integrity of China's territory and sovereign rights, cease fabricating rumours and restore Sino-Japanese relations to what they were before the September 18 Incident.

When the Government troops were about to wipe out the bandits in Shansi, Japan again fabricated rumours with the intention of disturbing the relations between the Government and the district authorities. Japan seems to have concluded a secret pact with the bandits.

We strongly believe that the Chinese people and the authorities in North China fully realize this and will not be misled by rumours.

CLASH BETWEEN WORKERS & POLICE

Prior to the January 28 Incident, the main factory of the Commercial Press, Ltd. on Paoshan Road employed about 800 workers. As the main factory was destroyed during the Incident, most of these 800 workers have been out of employment.

Shortly after 10 a.m. yesterday a number of workers went to the Sales Office of the Commercial Press, Ltd. on Honan Road and demanded that they be given first chance of selection for employment. As the doors to the premises were crowded with workers and as this might affect the business of the store, the management sent a telephone message to the Police asking for assistance.

Upon receipt of this telephone message, the Police despatched three police vans and several tens of detectives and policemen to quell the crowd. As the large crowd was obstructing the traffic, the Police dispersed it by means of force. A minor clash occurred between the workers and the Police. A representative of the workers named Kao Sih Tao (高錫滔), ex-worker of the Printing Department of the Commercial Press Works, was struck with a baton and injured in the left arm. Several old female workers were also injured when they were pushed and trodden upon by the crowd. Kao Sih Tao was later sent to St. Luke's Hospital for treatment.

In an interview with Hsu Chi Tseng (徐志清), a representative of the discharged workers, Wong Yuih Woo (王維五), General Manager of the Commercial Press, Ltd., stated that as the matter is one of some importance, a reply would be given the men on April 6 after the matter had been brought up for discussion at a meeting of the Board of Directors on April 4.

The "Holmes" (福爾摩斯) dated April 1:

JAPAN'S ACTIVITIES IN SOUTH FOKIEN

The autonomy movement in Fokien Province is nearing completion. Fokien has been a centre of activities of a certain nation since the September 18th Incident. For this reason, Fokien Province is already being regarded as a protectorate of that nation. The situation in the south of Fokien is most serious.

Amoy and Ningpo are the two principal harbours of Fokien Province. Formerly the Chinese Authorities in Amoy and the Customs used to be notified beforehand by the Consul of a foreign nation when its warships desire to enter any one of the harbours, but since 1934, this practice has not been observed. The warships of a certain nation now have free access to these harbours and no notice is sent to the Chinese district authorities.

The Japanese and Chinese traitors are conducting illegal sales of arms and munitions; they have also established gambling dens and organized smuggling.

Unrest among ex-workers of the Commercial Press

A number of ex-workers of the Commercial Press, 211 Honan Road, who are agitating for re-instatement, have submitted the following demands to the management of this concern :-

Commercial Press - Manager receives threatening letters

Since August 1931 the manager of the Commercial Press, 211 Hongnan Road, has been in receipt of several threatening letters purporting to emanate from the workers of the Factory who were paid off following the destruction of the premises on Pacshan Road during the Sino-Japanese hostilities.

On January 3, the manager and the assistant manager each received at their homes through the medium of the post a booklet embedded in the pages of which was one round of pistol ammunition.

Of the 3,450 workers originally employed by this firm some 1,000 have been reinstated while the remainder with the exception of about 20 who live in outports and have not come to Shanghai to receive the money, have been paid off.

It is learned, however, that of those whose services were dispensed with, about 2,000 are dissatisfied with the terms of the settlement and filed a suit with the Court against the management, the first hearing of which took place on Sept. 29 since when the case has been pending.
